About The Hochstein School

Hochstein is unique in its depth and breadth of offerings: extensive and varied music and dance programs for ages 6 months through 90+ that also include large and small ensembles as well as therapeutic arts (music, dance, art therapy). These offerings are taught by experienced professional faculty with the capacity to introduce each student to a broad array of choices and experiences – focusing on a personalized approach and tailoring to the individual's interests, strengths, and abilities.

Only Hochstein consistently delivers an educational experience that is unrivaled by any other community arts institution. From its earliest days, Hochstein has been an open window to knowledge and self-expression, offering lessons and classes to all – regardless of age, skill level, ethnicity, or ability to pay – growing its diverse community to thousands of students each year, many of whom are supported by a thriving need-based scholarship program thanks to donations from our generous community.

At Hochstein, you see people of all ages, abilities, and socio-economic backgrounds and walks of life engaging with one another and sharing in the joy of music and dance.

More information about Hochstein can be found at hochstein.org or by calling 585.454.4596.
